Re: ARREST

On July 14, 2011 Kenneth Hauk a 55-year-old male from Clarkdale was arrested for possession of stolen property, theft and trafficking in stolen property. Mr. Hauk was in possession of a Stanley Proto torque multiplier that had been reported stolen by Clarkdale Metals. Mr. Hauk had been employed by Clarkdale Metals but was released from employment in August 2010.

On July 14, 2011 officers of the Clarkdale Police Department with the help of a citizen, arranged to purchase a Stanley Proto torque multiplier that was being sold by Mr. Hauk, but reported stolen by Clarkdale Metals.

The citizen was provided with four $50 dollar bills a total of $200 for the purchase of the torque multiplier. These bills were photo copied as evidence showing the bills serial number. Hauk was arrested immediately after the transaction was completed. A search warrant was obtained for Mr. Hauk's residence but no other stolen tools were found.
