

Public Service Announcement:

Effective March 1, 2015, the Town of Clarkdale and Arizona State Parks have closed the Lower TAPCO River Access Point and the Tuzigoot River Access Point to vehicular access due to weather conditions.

The closures are necessary to protect the areas from damage caused by vehicles driving on muddy roads and driveways, which can create deep ruts and change natural drainage patterns. The temporary closure is the best way to protect the roads and the park resources and to keep the public safe.

Both access points will re-open to vehicular traffic after driving and parking surfaces dry and the Town of Clarkdale's Public Works Department has time to repair surfaces that were impacted during the storm. Rains from this storm system are currently predicted through Tuesday, March 3, 2015, at which time the Town of Clarkdale will be able to assess conditions and determine when to re-open the River Access Points.
